Senator Linda Coleman-Madison to be Honored at Second Annual “Living Legends of Birmingham Leadership” Program

Birmingham, Ala. — Vulcan® Park and Museum and Bright House Networks will once again partner to recognize a “Living Legend” of Birmingham Leadership in commemoration of Black History Month. Alabama State Senator Linda Coleman-Madison, the first black female elected to the Birmingham City Council, will be awarded this acknowledgement at the program held at 10:30 a.m. on February 18 at Vulcan® Park and Museum.

Students from Woodlawn and Parker High Schools will be present at the event honoring Senator Coleman-Madison’s achievements. The students will be given an introduction to Vulcan® Park and Museum as well as an overview of the Senator’s career. Following a one-on-one interview with the “Living Legend,” the students will be given the opportunity to ask prepared questions as it relates to their studies and their particular interests.
