Vulcan Park and Museum will be holding its annual Teacher Symposium on November 2, 2016 from 9:00 AM to 3:00 PM at the Park's Vulcan Center. This year's focus will be on Civic Education and how teachers can encourage their students to be active citizens and future leaders. Practical classroom activities will be taught by members of the UAB School of Education Faculty and local Social Studies teachers and will connect directly with the Social Studies Standards in the College and Career Ready Standards and the new C3 Framework set forth by the National Council for the Social Studies.
